

INDIA CANADA FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE

...forging close ties among Canadians with an interest in India

announces its lecture event

Northern Exposure

by Dr. Radha Jetty

on Sunday, 17 April 2016, 3:00 – 5:00 PM

Drawn by a real passion for social justice, Dr. Jetty established herself as Nunavut's first fulltime pediatrician. She called the Canadian Arctic home for many years, where she instituted much needed health services for the children of the North. As an assistant professor of pediatrics at the University of Ottawa and Inuit child health expert at the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario, she now calls Ottawa home. She strives to advocate for health equity among Inuit children through policy development as an advisor to Health Canada and the Canadian Pediatric Society.

Dr. Jetty's passion pervades her work as a professional Bharathanatyam dancer, choreographer and instructor. While steeped in tradition and ever-present in her global context, Dr. Jetty's work is constantly influenced by her life experiences. She actively shared her Indian culture, spirituality and dance while performing and teaching in the city of Iqaluit in Nunavut.

Dr. Jetty will share her personal experiences of living and working in Nunavut as an Indo-Canadian physician, while exploring the fascinating history, geography, social determinants of health and culture of the Inuit people of Nunavut.

Location: Rockcliffe Park Community Centre Hall, 380 Springfield Road, Ottawa
